Weekend of Empowerment

National Women's History Month 2017

“Honoring Trailblazing Women in Labor and Business”

The 2017 theme for National Women's History Month honors women who have successfully challenged the role of women in both business, education, and the paid labor force. Women have always worked, but often their work has been undervalued and unpaid.

The 2017 Honorees represent many diverse backgrounds and each made her mark in a different field. Additionally, the Honorees' work and influence spans three decades of America's history. These women all successfully challenged the social and legal structures that have kept women's labor underappreciated and underpaid.

Facing stark inequalities in the workplace (lower wages, poor working conditions, and limited opportunities), they fought to make the workplace a less hostile environment for women. They succeeded in expanding women's participation in commerce and their power in the paid labor force. As labor and business leaders and innovators they defied the social mores of their times by demonstrating women's ability to create organizations and establish their own businesses that paved the way for better working conditions and wages for themselves and other women.

They proved that women could succeed in every field. While each Honoree is extraordinary, each is also ordinary in her own way, proving that women business and labor leaders can and should be considered the norm. Most importantly, the 2017 Honorees paved the way for generations of women labor, Education, and business leaders to follow.

OMART's 2017 Weekend of Empowerment is intended to raise awareness, money, and celebrate this milestone by highlighting women, their growth, their struggles, and their journeys through a weekend of education, empowerment, encouragement, dancing, shopping, food, glamour and fun!

At OMART WSW, we believe that there is real healing and motivational power in hearing women's stories, both one on one and in a larger context. Remembering and recounting tales of our ancestors', as well as, our own talents and sacrifices serves as inspiration to today's generation of women and opens the way to their future. As in previous years, the Ladies night Out event provides an empowering, relaxed, and fun-filled environment in which attendees can celebrate the many facets of being a woman, while building strong connections.
